

Leather Release

We have sent your leather garment to a professional leather cleaner who specializes in leather cleaning. Return times vary depending on the workload of the cleaner (usually two weeks). If you need us to RUSH your order, please let us know.

Since leather is made of animal skin, the cleaning of leather is very risky and more expensive than normal dry cleaning. It can cause permanent damage including uneven dye loss, seam separations, chafing and overall color fading. Therefore, we do not assume responsibility for damage caused by the routine cleaning of leather garments. If you prefer not to take the risk, please call us immediately and we will return your garment uncleaned. If you would like your garment cleaned, it will be necessary for you to sign below, absolving us from any damage which may occur in the process.
